BIMspector Premium

First Impressions Matter

Your BIM content is so much more than a download. It is essential to build and maintain an up-to-date BIM content offering that aligns with your products,

BIMspector's products and services are here to help you understand just how effective your Revit content is to typical users.
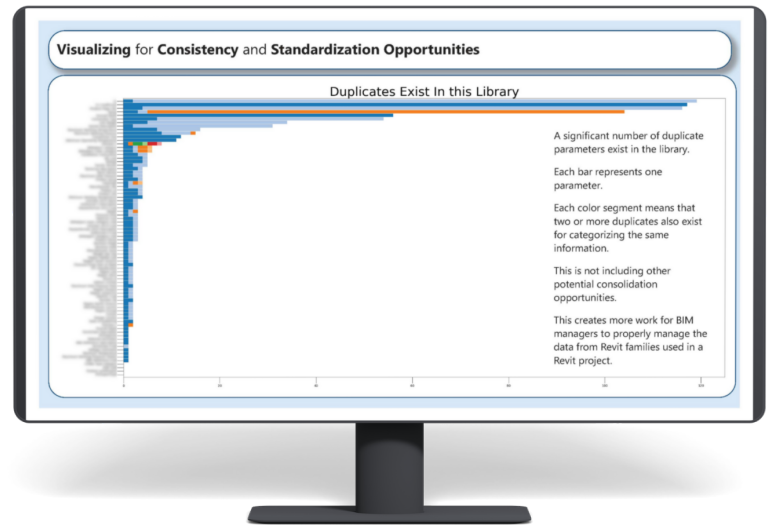

Signs of an ineffective BIM offering

- Little to no positive feedback on your content?
- Not seeing as many downloads as you want?
- Unsure if your product data aligns with your BIM offering?

Who should use our Services?

BIMspector is for manufacturers/users that need help evaluating their BIM library's current state. and finding solutions to elevate that library to an improved future state.

We provide the tools and resources to implement your unique roadmap for an effective BIM offering.

Visualizing for Consistency and Standardization Opportunities

Duplicates Exist In this Library

A significant number of duplicate parameters exist in the library.

Each bar represents one parameter.

Each color segment means that two or more duplicates also exist for categorizing the same information.

This is not including other potential consolidation opportunities.

This creates more work for BIM managers to properly manage the data from Revit families used in a Revit project.
